

WRITER'S CHOICE

A monthly listing of the best in contemporary literature as selected by today's outstanding writers from hundreds of titles published recently by independent, literary presses.

THE BARRACKS THIEF

by Tobias Wolff
THE ECCO PRESS
18 West 30th St., New York, NY 10001
Cloth, $12.50

"There is real power in this slim novel about three soldiers waiting to be shipped to Vietnam."

—selected by Anne Tyler

WILLINGLY

by Tess Gallagher
GRAYWOLF PRESS
P.O. Box 142, Port Townsend, WA 98368
Paperback, $6; Cloth, $12

"These poems are fabulous creatures from inner space who can, nevertheless, sit down and talk things over, creature-to-creature. Precise, witty, profound."

—selected by Donald Barthelme

PALACE OF EARTH

by Sonya Dorman
PUCKERBUSH PRESS
Orono, ME 04473
Paperback, $5.95

"An aggregation of poems like a handful of jewels, each one sparkling in a different way. Sonya Dorman has reached out and found prizes everywhere."

—selected by William Stafford

MATTY'S HEART

by C.J. Hribal
NEW RIVERS PRESS
1602 Selby Ave., St. Paul, MN 55104
Paperback, $6

"The harsh realities of the rural midwest and the modern world combine in these tough, deeply textured short stories. Several are real masterpieces."

—selected by Anne Tyler

SOMEONE

by Robert Pingel
RED DUST PRESS
P.O. Box 630, New York, NY 10028
Cloth, $12.95

"Someone is characteristically subtle, brilliant, and obsessive, a splendid performance by a writer insufficiently well-known in this country."

—selected by Donald Barthelme
